Remember H. C. Rasmussen for holiday goods.

The time is near at hand when Cerrillos can be advertised to good advantage.

The RUSTLER will make a good Christmas present for your friend at a distance.

The new furniture for the school building, desks, seats, clock and bell, arrived yesterday.

The streets often present almost a blockade of wagons, so great is the amount of shipping being done.

Messrs Ironsides & Griffin succeed A. Ready in the saloon business this week, they having bought him out.

The Optics says a company of New York capitalists have chartered and will build a road from Trinidad to Vegas.

The Cerrillos school is progressing finely with Mrs. Hays as teacher. The attendance is now reaching about 40.

The man or woman who is fond of children, is never very bad. There exists no better index to character than this one simple trait.

A letter from M. A. Rogers (Old Novelty), informs us that he is well pleased with Chama and is doing well. All of which his friends at this place are glad to hear.

J. D. Torlina, one of the owners of the Lucky mine, informs us that development work will be recommenced on the mine at once. The Lucky is located near the Central and Cash Entry.

It is understood that the building of a railroad from Cerrillos out to the San Pedro mines is now a fixed part of the copper company's plans, and that there will be no unnecessary delay in the matter.

E. R. Denny met with a serious accident this morning while working in the Williams mine. A portion of the roof fell on him, crushing him to the floor and injuring him about the head and shoulders and one leg. Dr. Reed is attending him.

The machinery for the gold mill at Dolores is being hauled out. It has been delayed here for several weeks, waiting for the roads to improve. Mr. Fisk informs us that unless further delayed, the mill will be running in three weeks or a month.

H. C. Rasmussen has just received a fine stock of Christmas goods, including all kinds of toys, candles, silk handkerchiefs, ladies and children's hoods, dolls and everything you want for Christmas presents. Call and see the stock now being opened.

The select ball given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. North last evening, was another delightful event. The supper was served at the Tabor House, and is also praised in the highest terms. The supper could not have been very profitable however, if truth can be placed in the statement as to the amount of good things stowed away by Joyce Board and L. D. Sugar.

San Pedro, Golden and Dolores, want and should have a daily mail. The increase of population and business, together with the outlook for settled and steady growth, will justify them in asking and the government in establishing a daily mail route to these points. The present every other day mail, is too slow and inconvenient, considering the amount of business being done and likely to be done in the future.

Col. R. W. Webb, manager of the Santa Fe Copper Company, operating the great copper mine at San Pedro, was in the city yesterday. He reports everything going on in the most satisfactory manner, and says the company is now shipping a car load of matte per day, and expecting to double the output by the middle of January. Webb has had a long and hard pull in that locality, and nobody will begrudge him the good luck that is now setting in toward his side. —Albuquerque Democrat.

Of the many large business houses in Albuquerque, none deserve more particular mention and credit than the Large Carpet, Boot and Shoe Bazar of John D. Torlina's, in which immense establishment managed under the strict one-price system—at prices equal to Chicago or Kansas City—can be found every quality of ladies and children's shoes, rubbers, carpets, linoleums, oil cloths and curtains, which can be purchased by mail orders—in which Mr. Torlina has a large trade—as cheap as in eastern cities. We recommend the House to our readers.

In taking his departure for Boston, president Hubbel, of the Santa Fe Copper Co. was accompanied to Ortiz station by Messrs. Rasmussen, Webb and Fletcher. Arriving at Ortiz, which is only a flag station, a considerable wait had to be made for the passenger train east and the appetites of the party, augmented by a twenty miles drive, caused the quartette to begin gazing upon each other with a longing which only hunger and cannibalistic notions can produce. The section house was espied, however, and a raid made in its direction, but of no avail, for the section foreman's wife, mistaking them for road agents, or worse, closed and barred the doors against them, nor were the most piteous appeals and honest protestations sufficient to open up that fortress. Appearance must have been unusually hard against them.

The Christmas Tree:

The members of the Sunday School are taking active steps in getting up a Christmas tree and little entertainment for the children and the move should strike a popular chord in every heart. Selfish and brutal indeed must be the man who does not thrill with pleasure, even at a thought of the anticipated pleasures of the little ones, at the time when Santa Claus is supposed to make his annual visit. Everybody can spare a little to help gladden the children's hearts and get more than returns for the money in witnessing their pleasure. Let us make the Christmas tree a success and have a merry, happy Christmas, all around.

CERRILLOS.

A Few of Her Advantages!

Location: On the Galisteo creek or river.

Scenery: Mountain and valley.

Altitude: 5,600 feet.

On the California line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe R. R., 52 miles north-east of Albuquerque.

Its vicinity comprises the most wonderful mineral country in the south-west, if not in the explored world.

Its coal fields on one side yield bituminous coal superior to Canon City, or to any in the West; anthracite equal to the Pennsylvania product, besides heavy veins of good cokeing, gas and blacksmith coal.

To the south are the great mines or mountains of copper, and alongside of them rich placers and leads of gold.

To the east and north are found at various depths deposits of almost solid Galena, carrying a per cent. of silver and gold.

In addition to these there are deposits of iron easily accessible, mines of Turquoise, mountains of alabaster, the finest of building stone, limestone, fire-clay, and natural gas discovered.

As a smelting point it has no equal, having cheap fuel and all the fluxing materials at the door.

As a healthy, pleasant place to live, it has the honest recommendation of every citizen.

Its future prospects are of the very best. The combined operators cannot near supply the coal orders from the trade. Arrangements are being made looking to the building of large lead and zinc smelters, new gold mills are being put up in the vicinity, the San Pedro copper works are increasing a business requiring the expenditure of over half a million dollars a year, new railroads are expected, and prominent men of the Territory, noted for cool and calculating judgment, say the future of Cerrillos will be that of the largest city in the territory.

There seems little reason why laboring men with families should not do better here, with fair wages and cheap fuel, than on the plains of Kansas, with no work and coal twenty dollars a ton.

The Fair.

Old Chris Kringle the Christmas King, known as the children's friend and "Santa Claus," seems to have centered all of his attractions for the holiday season at The Fair, Albuquerque. The large rooms occupied by The Fair are at the rear of the First National Bank and they present to the beholder a wilderness of toys and holiday goods, ranging from the plainest and cheapest to the richest and most handsome of Christmas presents. We were shown through the labyrinth of this miniature Christmas Kingdom by a representative of His Majesty, who informed us that this was the largest assortment of holiday goods ever centered at any one point in the territory, and that being a distributing point, the greatest inducements are offered to Sabbath Schools and the trade. School and tree outfits furnished at wholesale prices. Remember there is everything you can possibly want at The Fair. Call or order by mail.

Hon. Jay A. Hubbel, president of the Santa Fe Copper Company, started on his return to Boston, yesterday morning. He appears well satisfied with the outlook at the mines, which, it is now understood, will be worked to their greatest capacity as soon as the necessary additions can be made in machinery and force.

Our Christmas Drawing.

Two solid gold watches, one gentleman's and one lady's—will be drawn by the cash subscribers to the RUSTLER who pay three dollars for the paper previous to Christmas day and secure a number. These watches are both very handsome and perfect time pieces, carrying the guarantee of Mr. J. R. Hudson, the Santa Fe Jeweler who sold them to this office. Each cash subscriber secures the paper for the year 1889, besides having a chance to draw one or the other of these watches. If you are already a subscriber, send an extra copy to your relative or friend at a distance and help us out. The watches can be seen at this office.

The manner of drawing the gold watches will be by placing each subscriber's number, as it appears opposite his name on the list, on tickets, the tickets to be placed in a box, shaken up and drawn by a child until all the numbers are drawn. The last two numbers out will draw the watches.

A car of black and sporting powder just arrived.
